The 1 March 2027 order check

For Ontario nurse injectors. Every line is a question. If the answer is no, you stop and ask.

PART 1 The order itself

What a client-specific order should let you answer.

1. ☐ Does it name this one client, and only this client?
2. ☐ Was it written after an NP or physician assessed this client, in person or virtually?
3. ☐ Is there a plan of care for this client on file?
4. ☐ Does it name the treatment and the area you are about to do?
5. ☐ Does it cover the treatment you're giving today, under this client's plan of care?
6. ☐ Who wrote it, and are they an NP or physician with authority to order it?
7. ☐ If it was given verbally, where is it recorded?
8. ☐ Is it clear and complete enough that you would not have to guess anything?
9. ☐ Is the product it covers Health Canada approved?

PART 2 Before you inject, in map order

Assess. ------ Order. ------- Map. ------- Treat. ------- Chart.

● Assess	1 ☐	Assessed? Has an NP or physician assessed this client, in person or virtually?
● Order	2 ☐	Plan of care? Is it on file, and does today's treatment match it?
	3 ☐	Order for this client? Is the order in front of you written for this client, for this treatment?
	4 ☐	Consent? Does the client know who is treating them today?
● Map	5 ☐	Map checked? Have you marked the landmarks and the vessels, and has the map been checked before the needle comes out?
	6 ☐	Emergency ready? Is the emergency kit in the room, and do you know how to reach the authorizing NP or physician right now?
● Treat	7 ☐	Product and lot recorded? Are the product and lot number in the chart?
● Chart	8 ☐	Charted against the order? Does your note line up with what the order says?
	9 ☐	Follow-up booked? Does the client have a follow-up, and do they know who to call?

Draw it. Check it. Then treat.
